

Dedicated service yields steadfast business: Supplying critical customers in a time of need

“The time is always right to do what is right”

During this unprecedented time, it is important to remember that everyone’s focus should be on helping others: We’re all in this together.

As an essential resin supplier to the healthcare industry, Polymer Resources has expanded upon its customer-centric, innovative approach and doubled down to ensure the needs of each customer are engaged and supported.

As it stands today, the demand for resin supply in the healthcare industry has spiked for customers manufacturing critical applications such as ventilators, hospital beds and defibrillators, along with other essential healthcare equipment. Therefore, Polymer Resources has dedicated resources giving priority to express color matches, accelerated orders, and the flexibility to supply resin from 250lbs to truck load quantities. All express fees are being waived for medical applications. Having economic strength and logistical know-how, there isn’t a challenge Polymer can’t support.

Providing the foundation to our charge is our manufacturing team. As most of the world works from home, our team day in, day out provides the highest quality pellet, ensuring each box leaving the plant yields the exact performance for our critical, essential customers. To be sure, Polymer management has taken many actions to ensure the safety of its employees by implementing various tactical strategies to fight against COVID-19 inside and outside the plant- Thank you team!

Polymer Resources is committed. We’re committed to doing our part of helping others in need.

With well wishes,
Polymer Resources
